

Target and filler performance over time

Shared targets separate strongly by condition; filler gains are descriptive within each condition

Target items are identical across conditions. Filler items differ by condition, so the filler panel does not support a between-condition comparison.